Press Release

Polyas is now multilingual

You can now vote online in four different languages

Berlin, 25.05.2016 – German, French, Italian and, of course, English: These are the languages available to voters when they cast their online ballots with Polyas.

It doesn't matter if your voters are in Berlin, London, Paris or Rome - or indeed what language they speak. With Polyas they can exercise their right to vote in their own language. Our latest upgrade incorporates multilingual features into our voting platform.

It's easy for you to create ballot papers in different languages, which can be edited with customized text and logos. We make sure that all ballot papers are legally valid. In the electoral register you can assign languages to your voters individually and when they log into the platform they'll see a ballot paper corresponding to their preferred language: English, French, German or Italian. It's as simple as that.

An election which incorporates four languages leaves no room for language barriers and misunderstandings.

About us:
Polyas has developed software for legally valid online elections. Companies, cooperatives, clubs, universities, churches and chambers vote quickly and easily with us online.

If you would like to know more about Polyas and our online voting system, we would be more than happy to provide further election material and are available to answer your questions via email or in person.
